Dear Evelyn, Marcelo, Chris and all the others of the Peuma Hue staff & Family!

Thank you so much for the wonderful 7 days and all the hospitality!

The warmth and enthusiasm of everybody made me feel like a little bit of part of the family.... Chris that took me out to fantastic rides and explained a lot about wild life, Evelyn that never stops to do everything to make you feel comfortable and shared her thoughts with us until late in the evening at the fire... Marcelo always willing to adjust his plans to yours and helping you out even with forgotten postcards... the kitchen staff... the very tasty and creative meals... I could go on and on but unfortunately have to leave this "place of peace and dreams".

Here at Peuma Hue we learned from our Portuguese friend that all love is sacred, from Annalise & Pablo that even flowers have a song. We learned that dogs will always follow you when you go for a walk and that waterfalls that start as glaciers are amazingly cold. We also learned the art of being still & of truly listening to the world grow around us. Thanks to all here for making these experiences possible, for welcoming us with such warmth & friendship & for helping us to begin to listen.

Después de estos maravillosos días aquí, me di cuenta que se necesitan nuevos adjetivos para describir todo lo bien que uno se siente en este lugar, pero no sólo en lo natural y paisajístico sino en lo humano de todos los de aquí, el aire, la química de armonía que flota es una de las sensaciones que me llevo más fuerte.

Y esta noche no tengo la sensación de última sino de penúltima noche, porque estoy seguro que volveré por todo lo bien que me sentí.

Hay lugares que poseen belleza,

Hay lugares que poseen amor,

Hay lugares que poseen un sin fin de atractivos naturales,

Hay lugares que poseen placer,

Pero en este país, en mi país, en Argentina, hay un lugar que supo combinar las bellezas naturales con el amor y el placer, porque atrás de todo ello hay personas divinas, personas capaces de transmitirnos sentimientos.

Eso es Peuma Hue

Un lugar de belleza sentimental.

Evelyn,

I cannot speak Spanish but I use to love listening to the girls at the lodge talking, smiling & laughing together, it created a warm friendly enviroment....what they were saying "god only knows".

As for Peuma Hue! I came here not knowing what to expect, I knew very little of the place, Patagonia & Argentina. All my expectations have been surpassed x 1000.

I have had an unprecedented wonderful time and it was just what "the doctor" as they say "ordered for me" and has truly helped "my well being" and for this I shall never forget "Peuma Hue".

I have climbed mountains, experienced the quiet of the forest, wildlife, birds, the lake, the scenery.... I can now ride a horse, skied with a wonderful Argentine family and even played football with Marcelo's friends.... What can I say, I have experienced Patagonia, Argentina & Latin America and can't wait to tell all my stories when I return home.

Llevamos 10 días de viaje de novios y hasta ahora lo mejor: el Peuma Hue. El paisaje, la acogedora estancia, la gente tan estupenda que se conoce aquí y sabe todo a hospitalidad de los propietarios y todos los que trabajan aquí. Estoy seguro de que volveremos.

Thank God Evelyn was put in this wonderful place. Words just cannot describe what I feel about Peuma Hue. This place is Paradise and very sacred – wherever you look there are smiling faces! It is so easy to slip into another dimension and forget that there is another world out there. My heart will remain here also and always.

Thank you so much Evelyn and your staff for allowing me to share this perfect place and thanks to all the doggies, horses, condors, pumas, cats, etc!

Peuma Hue

El lugar de los sueños
De los sueños pequeños
De los sueños inmensos
De los sueños certeros

Con voz de cascabel
Y sonrisa de luna
Con su luz te recibe
Sin ser duende, ni hada

Bienvenido a mi hogar,
Mi lugar en el mundo,
Mi preciado tesoro,
También es para ustedes.

Conéctate a tu mundo
A través de este sueño
Paraíso escondido
Asomado a tu encuentro

Te sentís más pequeño
En tanta inmensidad
La tierra te seduce
Con tanta dignidad!

Te corta hasta el aliento
Te hipnotizan sus aguas
O sos parte de todo
O sos nada, en la nada.

Caminar los senderos
Cabalgar contra el viento

Mecerse en sus aguas
O sentir el silencio

Orgullosas custodian
Las montañas altivas
Y los caminos juegan
En ellas escondidas.

Las cascadas traviesas
Su energía salpican
El viento baila y canta
Cruzando la alameda

El lugar de los sueños
Un sosiego a tu vida
Paz, remanso y calma
El refugio del alma...

Thanks to everyone at Peuma Hue... I'm leaving with stories of some of the most beautiful scenery I've experienced, as well as adventures in trekking, horse back riding, and river rafting – but I was happily surprised that I'm also leaving inspired ☺, having met such amazing people here. Everyone who works here seems to have such a connection to the land, as well as an authentic, natural way of relating to each other and the guests. It also seems to attract certain types of people – I felt so lucky to share our stay with the gentle, open guests we met. I've learned a lot, and leave with an amazing first impression of Argentina.

This was another beautiful stop on our family trip to Patagonia.

The most memorable event will certainly be rafting down The Manso and completely capsizing in "Scrambled Eggs", the Muy Malo rapid. Actually, Sr. Zimmermann fell out of the raft (or was washed out) on another rapid, so I got to know the river well. The mountain cabin was our secluded nest in a secluded corner of a beautiful lake and mountain valley in a far away part of country, strange and exotic, in another hemisphere, far from out too rapid existence in Connecticut.
